frequently asked questions

Can I use English Unite clip art on resources I sell on my own website and other websites?

I allow the use of the clip art on any digital platform as long as it is secured. I feel that the world is becoming more and more digital each day, and teachers and resource creators are always looking for new ways to reach out to students. I have no desire to limit this process. I trust that teachers will always do their best to protect my work along with their own.

If I create a resource using English Unite clip art, what exactly do you need to meet the terms of agreement requirement when providing credit?

The resource requires credit in the form of a link to the Teachers Pay Teachers store or our website. The button/logo is included in each clip art pack as an option to include somewhere in your resource - it is not a requirement. If you are posting worksheets that don't have a credits page, credit in your product description will be sufficient.

What is the difference between the two types of black and white images: Bw and Bwd and the uses?

I include two versions of the black and white images because I have found a use for both within my own resources. The bwd (black and white dark lines) are best for images that will be reduced as the lines will still be visible as small images. In comparison, the bw (black and white) can be used for larger images.

Can I use English Unite clip art on Google slides?

Yes, commercial/personal use through all digital platforms is allowed without an additional license as long as the images are secured and cannot be easily extracted.

Is English Unite clip art permitted for use as movable pieces on Boom Cards?

Yes, the images may be used as movable pieces on any platform as long as the guidelines for protecting the artwork are followed. Please layer the image on a background or add your text/logo on top of the image.

I teach in a language other than English. Is it possible to get the images without the labels?

The images do not come with labels. The labels are only included on the covers/preview covers as a guideline for what is included in the pack. The images are saved as transparent PNG files.

frequently asked questions

Can the clip art be used for my Boom Cards that I am selling on the Boom cards site and Teachers Pay Teachers site?

Yes, the images can be used in Boom decks without any additional license. Please ensure the images are properly secured, and proper credit is provided.

If I can use this product as long as it's layered over a background, does that mean placing a character over a purple square, for example, or putting a textbox with the character's name over some part of the image and saving that as an individual picture so it can't be altered?

Yes, you can use any of my images for any digital product as long as you protect it along with your own work in the best way you can. The layering of the product is specific to resources where the image can be removed as in movable pieces. If there is no way they can extract the images from the game/worksheet, then I don't require a background or text box.

Do you sell an extended moveable image license?

You do not need an extended license to use my images in digital resources. Please check the terms of use for the general guidelines on acceptable use in digital resources.

Can I use your clip art in flashcard products to be sold on TPT? They would include words and be part of a lesson.

The terms of use do not allow for resources that use the clip art as stand-alone images - flashcards, stickers, coloring books, etc. Flashcards with wording that compliments a larger lesson plan is allowed.

Can I use English Unite clip art to sell resources on sites other than TPT?

Yes, resources containing English Unite clip art may be sold on any website as digital resources with proper credit.

May I use English Unite clip art on my social media?

Yes, you can provide credit in the form of a hashtag or mention or by providing a link to the English Unite website/TPT store.

Is it permitted to use English Unite clip art in my YouTube videos?

I allow the use of the backgrounds and clip art for educational videos without any additional licenses, but it does require credit back to the English Unite website/TPT store.
